

New Pressure Release Valve prevents over-inflation.

New pressure release valve is located at the bottom of the Intex PureSpa Bubble Massage.

For example, if the spa is inflated in the morning...

...the pressure release valve protects your spa by releasing excess pressure from sun exposure and hot weather conditions during the day.

At night and under cooler temperatures the air naturally contracts, making the spa appear less firm. It's not leaking!

Pressure may restore when air temperature rises again – check and correct inflation as needed.